The Patient | Video, 2021

Many assumed that the increased use of modern technology in the workplace would allow mankind to sit back more, yet some people are working longer hours than ever. The Patient reflects on the role of a modern work environment and how it impacts our life.

Virtual Worker Diaries | Video, 2020

This work aims to highlight the layers of obfuscation inherent to virtual labor markets—anonymous employers hiring anonymous workers in a context vacuum. I commission workers to write personal stories and later collaborate with other virtual workers to reify the original storytellers, compiling voice narrations and "face composites" into video form.
